

TIKKUN OLAM/MITZVAHS/TZEDAKAH QUOTES FROM 1 + 1 = 3

1. Tzedakah is not about giving;
Tzedakah is about being.

(Rabbi Bradley Shavit Artson)

2. Three things in human life are important:
The first is to be kind.
The second is to be kind.
And the third is to be kind.

(Henry James)

3. Each man has inside him a basic decency and goodness. If he listens to it and acts on it, he is giving a great deal of what it is the world needs most. It is not complicated but it takes courage. It takes courage for a man to listen to his own goodness and act on it.

(Norman Cousins)

4. Living is not a private affair of the individual.
Living is what man does with God's time,
what man does with God's world.

(Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel, 5"י)

5. The meaning of man's life lies in his perfecting the universe. He has to distinguish...and redeem the sparks of holiness scattered throughout the darkness of the world.

(Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel, 5"י)

6. What we want to change we curse and then pick up a tool.
Bless whatever you can with eyes and hands and tongue.
If you can't bless it, get ready to make it new.

(Marge Piercy, poet)

7. Rabbi Simla'i explained in a sermon:

The Torah begins and ends with acts of caring, loving kindness. (Talmud: Sotah 14a)

דרש ר' שמלאי
הורה תחלה גמילות חסדים וסופה גמילות חסדים

8. I would say to young people a number of things....I would say let them remember that there is meaning beyond absurdity. Let them be sure that every little deed counts, that every word has power, and that we can, everyone, do our share to redeem the world in spite of all absurdities and all the frustrations and all disappointments.

(Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel, 5"י)

9. Assuredly, thus says God:...

If you produce what is noble out of what is worthless,
You shall be My spokesperson. (Jeremiah 15:19)

לֵכֵן כִּדְבַר־אֲמֵר יְהוָה...וְאִם-תּוֹצִיא יָקָר מִזּוּלָּל כִּפְּי תִהְיֶה

10. To be is to be-with-dignity.

(Anonymous)

11. When you take a stand, it shapes who you are. It sets your priorities. It wakes you up in the morning, and it dresses you. It puts you to bed at night. There's deep spirituality in that way of being.

(Lynne Twist, founding executive of The Hunger Project)

12. When the great, sweet Rabbi Zusia of Hanipol was on his deathbed, his students gathered all around him. The Teacher said to them:

When I get to the Next World, I am not afraid if God will ask me, "Zusia, why weren't you Moses, to lead the people out of this land where Jews are so oppressed and beaten by the people?" I can answer, "I did not have the leadership abilities of a Moses."

And if God asks, "Zusia, why weren't you Isaiah, reprimanding the people for their sins and urging them to change their ways, to repent?" I could answer, "I did not have the eloquence of Isaiah, the Great Master of powerful and dazzling speech."

And if God should ask, "Zusia, why weren't you Maimonides, to explain the deeper meaning of Judaism to the philosophers of the world, so they would understand the Jews better and perhaps treat them better?" I can answer, "I did not have the vast intellectual skills of Maimonides."

No, my students, I am not afraid of those questions. What I fear is this: What if God asks me, "Zusia, why weren't you Zusia?"

Then what will I say?

(Chassidic Tale)

13. Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever does.

(Margaret Mead)

14. Nobody makes a greater mistake than he who does nothing because he could only do a little.

(Edmund Burke)

15. Maybe I'm a fool, but I believe that dignity wins out.
When it doesn't, then we as a people become extinct.

(Roy Stryker, The Depression Photography Project)

16. ...every single person is required to say,
"The whole world was created for my sake." (Mishnah Sanhedrin, end of chapter 4)

כֹּל אֶחָד וְאֶחָד חַיִּיב לֵאמֹר, בְּשֵׁבִילִי נִבְרָא הָעוֹלָם

17. Whatever you can do, or dream you can do, you can.
Boldness has a genius, magic and power to it.

(Goethe)

18. It is not the critic who counts, or how the strong man stumbled and fell, or where the doer of deeds could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly, who errs and comes up short again and again, who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotion, and spends himself in a worthy cause; and if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that he will never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

(Theodore Roosevelt)

19. It's not what you are, but what you don't become that hurts.

(Oscar Levant)

20. When I was younger, my dreams of what I hoped to write woke me from my soundest sleep.

(Stephen Dobyns, poet)

21. Please make sure my red bear gets a good home.
